2nd December 1922.

My dear Monsieur Montagna,

This is a letter to confirm to you what I said in conversation this afternoon concerning the special assistance which perhaps some of my collaborators might be able to afford to your Sub-Commission.

With regard to the Treaty concerning the exchange of populations, Mr. Colban, of the Secretariat of the League of Nations, has helped me from the beginning with the preparation of the draft Treaty which I circulated and in other ways. He has a profound knowledge of the subject and if the Sub-Commission thought it useful feel sure that Sir Erskine Drummond would have no objection to lending his services.

With regard to the conditions of the devastated areas in Asia Minor there are also my representatives, M. Haccius and M. Cuenod, who were in the devastated areas around Smyrna and Magnesia.

I am sure they would be willing to give evidence if you thought it desirable. They could be found at short notice through the International Committee of the Red Cross, 1 Promenade du Pin, Geneva.

Believe me, my dear Monsieur Montagna, with my kindest regards and with my warmest wishes for the success of your Commission.

Yours very sincerely,

Jm
